ABSTRACT

Data are tabulated for Pennsylvania academic libraries in three main categories: collections (1974-75), staff salaries (1975-76), and operating expenditures (1974-75). Data on library collections cover number of volumes, microforms, and audiovisual titles. Information on library staff includes number of professional and support staff, and staff status and salaries. Expenditures are tabulated by institutional category and by type of expenditure and institution. (LS)

FOREWORD

This publication is the fourth issue of Volume XIII of Our Colleges and Universities Today. The several publications are designed to provide statistical data and trends for all institutions of higher education in Pennsylvania. Excluded from the data in this publication are five institutions--Electronic Institutes--Harrisburg, Electronic Institutes--Pittsburgh, Institute of Computer Management, New Castle Business College and Gateway Technical Institute, Inc.--that did not respond to the survey; two institutions--Erie Business Center and Lyons Technical Institute--that filed negative reports; and two institutions--Antioch/Philadelphia and St. Vincent Seminary--that shared library facilities with neighboring colleges.

The data were obtained directly from the institutions on schedules provided by the National Center for Education Statistics. Appreciation is extended to the responsive and cooperative group of higher education officials who are assisting in the continuous development of the Department of Education's higher education data system.

Inquiries relative to these data should be directed to the Division of Education Statistics, Bureau of Information Systems, Department of Education, Box 911, Harrisburg, Pennsylvania 17126.

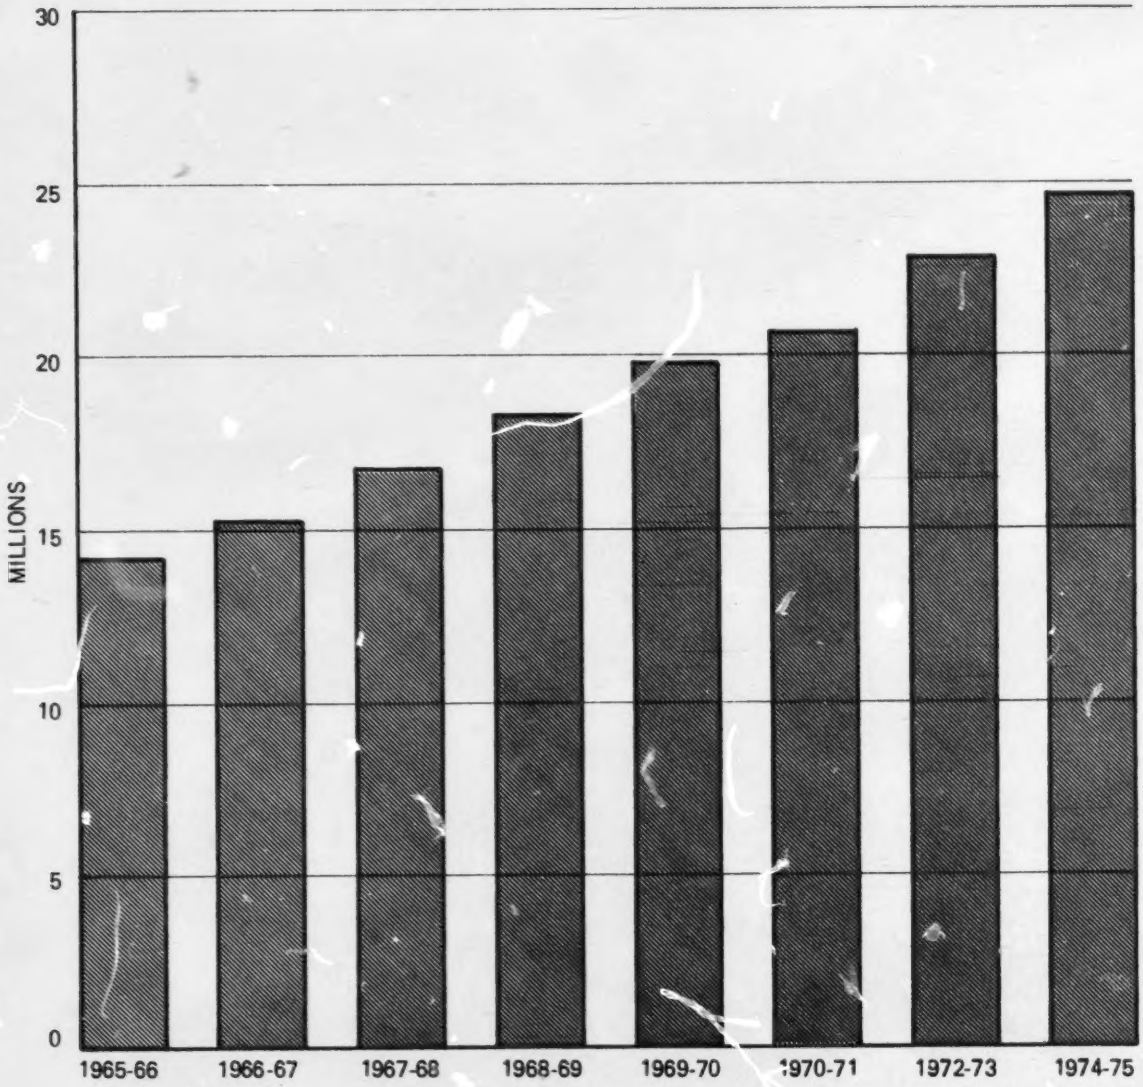
PART I

LIBRARY COLLECTION, 1974-75

In the last 10 years, the number of volumes in the library collections of Pennsylvania's colleges and universities has increased nearly 75 per cent. This increase has resulted from a variety of changes within the various types of institutions. Specifically, the holdings of the state-owned institutions increased nearly one and three-fourths times; of the state-related commonwealth universities, slightly over 90 per cent; of all private institutions, just over 50 per cent; and of the community colleges, a relatively new group of institutions, over 15 times.

During the 1974-75 academic year, 1,230,724 volumes were added to the collections at all colleges and universities. This brought the total number of volumes to 24,795,412 at the end of the academic year. In addition, there were 3,256,623 volumes in separate government documents collections. Separate government documents collections were reported primarily by state-owned institutions (16.6 per cent), by state-related commonwealth universities (31.4 per cent) and by the private colleges and universities (49.3 per cent).

Additional data regarding microforms and periodicals are provided in Table 3. However, because of changes in the classifications of microforms, it is difficult to make comparisons with data collected on the last survey (1972-73). On the other hand, titles of periodicals being received increased by 16.3 per cent to 230,157. In addition, the area of audio and/or visual materials now includes data on motion pictures, audio recordings, filmstrips, slides and overhead transparencies and maps and charts.



Note: Data were not reported for 1971-72 or 1973-74.

PART II

LIBRARY STAFF AND STAFF SALARIES, 1975-76

From 1968 (the first year data were available) until 1975, the full-time equivalent professional library staff at all institutions of higher education increased nearly 12 per cent, with a high of 1,371 being reported in 1973. Since the 1973 survey, decreases have occurred in all categories except the community colleges. The state-owned institutions lost the equivalent of seven professionals, the state-related commonwealth universities lost 12 and the private institutions, collectively, lost 31. Coupled with the decrease in hours of student assistance from 1.8 million in 1972-73 to 1.5 million in 1974-75 (Table 8), this would indicate that fewer employes were available to provide library service to student bodies that have continued to grow. From 1973 to 1975, state-owned institution enrollments increased by 4.1 per cent, state-related commonwealth university enrollments by 7.0 per cent and those of private institutions, as a total, by 3.3 per cent.[1]

The current year's FTE figure of 1,331.3 staff was comprised of 1,251 full-time and 174 part-time personnel. This total headcount of 1,425 was divided among the various types of positions as follows: 183 or 12.8 per cent chief librarians; 106 or 7.4 per cent deputy, associate or assistant librarians; 888 or 62.4 per cent librarians; 33 or 2.3 per cent media specialists; and 215 or 15.1 per cent others.

Of the 1,251 full-time staff members, 821 or 65.6 per cent were women, and 1,011 or 80.8 per cent had graduate degrees. With the part-time staff, 122 or 70.1 per cent were women, and 120 or 69.0 per cent had graduate degrees.

[1] "Summer and Fall College Enrollments in Pennsylvania," Our Colleges and Universities Today, Volume XIII, No. 1, Pennsylvania Department of Education, 1976.

The average salary for the full-time professional staff in all positions, when equated to an 11-12 month basis, was $13,782. The average for each position was: chief librarians, $17,216; deputy, associate and assistant librarians, $14,145; other librarians, $14,135; media specialists, $14,366; and other professionals, $8,986. By institutional category, the range of salaries for all positions went from $4,200 for one person at the proprietary schools to $19,478 for 187 people at the state-owned institutions. For each individual position, the state-owned institutions ranked first in salaries paid, with a range from $25,852 for chief librarians to $18,868 for librarians.

In addition to the 1,331.3 full-time equivalent professional staff, a total of 1,583.0 full-time equivalent supportive staff members and, as mentioned previously, nearly 1.5 million hours of student assistance were available to aid in the operation of the libraries. The equivalent supportive staff included 1,416 full-time and 341 part-time employes.

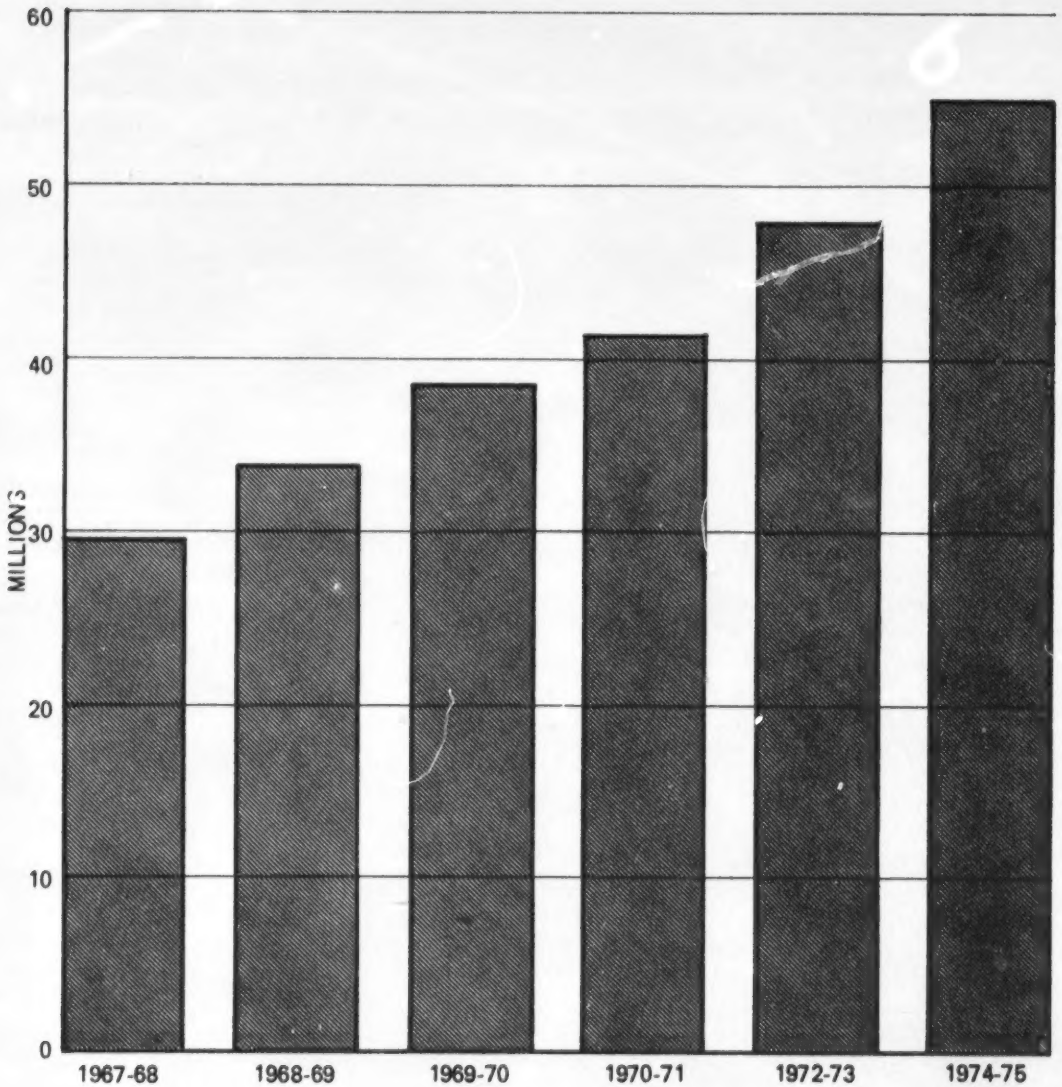
PART III

LIBRARY OPERATING EXPENDITURES, 1974-75

Although the peak period of staff employment in college and university libraries has seemingly been reached, expenditures, as one might expect, have continued to grow. Since 1967-68, expenditures have increased over 85 per cent to the $55,106,836 reported for 1974-75. From 1972-73 the increase was almost 15 per cent. However, there were a few changes in the classification of these expenditures from 1972-73 to 1974-75 that should be noted. In particular, the 1974-75 total includes $3.7 million that were expended for fringe benefits, an item that had previously not been reported. On the other hand, previous surveys have included an item for estimated salary equivalents of contributed-services staff (those who receive no pay for their work). In 1972-73 this figure approached one-half million dollars. Therefore, when the effect of these two changes is taken into consideration, the net overall increase from 1972-73 to 1974-75 was $3,865,447 or just over eight per cent. As in the past, the category of expenditures for salaries and wages was the largest single item, with this year's total of $27.7 million being equal to just over 50 per cent of all expenditures.

The library expenditure index (total library operating expenditures divided by total educational and general expenditures) listed in Table 12 shows a range from 0.9 at the proprietary schools to 11.7 at the theolcgical seminaries. Among the four-year colleges and universities, the state-owned institutions rank first with 5.0 and the private state-aided institutions rank last with 2.9. The overall average was 3.8.



Note: Data were not reported for years prior to 1967-68 or for 1971-72 and 1973-74.
